ABOUT US

Around the world, waste generation rates are rising. In 2016, the world's cities generated 2.01 billion tonnes of solid waste, amounting to a footprint of 0.74 kilograms per person per day. With rapid population growth and urbanization, annual waste generation is expected to increase by 70% from 2016 levels to 3.40 billion tonnes in 2050. Compared to those in developed nations, residents in developing countries, especially the urban poor, are more severely impacted by unsustainably managed waste. In low-income countries, over 90% of waste is often disposed in unregulated dumps or openly burned. These practices create serious health, safety, and environmental consequences. Poorly managed waste serves as a breeding ground for disease vectors, contributes to global climate change through methane generation, and can even promote urban violence. Managing waste properly is essential for building sustainable and livable cities, but it remains a challenge for many developing countries and cities. Effective waste management is expensive, often comprising 20%–50% of municipal budgets. Operating this essential municipal service requires integrated systems that are efficient, sustainable, and socially supported.

ABOUT US

Eroncycle is structured in a rural environment which waste management is useful and profitable from Sweden to Norway. We collect waste materials from solid, organic and metallic from household, production companies, shipping companies and recycle to several profitable products which is then sold to several companies in the country and abroad to help the government and the company investors grow and earn from this weekly.

Eroncycle has also help investors financially by giving small scale loans to start business and other investment.

Eroncycle generate profits from the exchange of waste resources. We give 4,000 waste collectors to every state in Sweden to collect waste disposal daily and we take it to our industries where we break them down to several levels of production such as Plastic, metal, organic which we sell to bottling companies and so many other companies.

FAQ LOAN

How likely am I to be accepted for a loan?

This depends on the package you invested on. There are loans out there for everyone though, and so it is unlikely that you will not be accepted for any loans at all.

What purposes can I obtain a loan for?

Starting up a new business, Beginning a post-graduate course at a university or Putting a deposit down for a house.

Will my credit profile affect my ability to get the best loan rates?

Yes, the better your credit rating the more likely you are to get the lowest interest rates on your loan. For those with a bad credit profile, the higher interest rates reflect the increased risk on the part of the creditors in lending you money.

Why is interest higher for short term loans?

Interest rates are generally higher on shorter term loans, as there are increased administration costs in setting up the loan.
